Shattered German Armies Reported in Gen. Bradley's
Communique to Have Been Bled By

CANADIANS WITHIN TEN MILES OF ZUIDER ZEE

By JAMES M. LONG
Paris, April 9.—(P)—The Allies, having exacted 500,000 casualties from the Germans in ten days, cut the last railway from western Holland today, trapping the bulk of 80,000 more Germans believed still in The Netherlands.

The American Ninth and British Second armies fought within sight of the shelled and burning north German cities of Hannover and Bremen. They were within 50 miles of the Elbe river at Hamburg and 70 of the stream at Nageburg. The Elbe is the later water barrier on the flat country leading to Berlin and flows within 50 miles of the capital.

Hannover and Bremen both were five miles from Allied infantry and tanks. An entry into both was imminent, although the Germans were fighting hard for Bremen, one of their greatest ports and ship-building centers.

R. A. F. Blasts U-Boat Yards At Hamburg

BULLETIN
London, April 9.—(P)—More than 1,250 American heavy bombers and 750 fighters smashed 10 German airfields, an underground oil storage depot and a powder plant, all within a 60-mile radius of Munich today. RAF Lancasters escorted by Spitfires and Mustangs unloaded 11-ton and 6-ton bombs on U-boat shelters at Hamburg and attacked oil storage depots at the North Sea port.

By HENRY B. JAMESON
London, April 9.—(P)—An armada of more than 900 RAF heavy bombers blasted the Blohm-Voss submarine yards at Hamburg and the Lutzendorf synthetic oil plant near Leipzig last night, while fleet Mosquitos rocked Berlin with another dose of two-ton block-busters.

The raids followed up sweeping assaults on Germany yesterday by more than 1,950 planes of the U. S. Eighth Air Force, which bombed 11 targets between Berlin and Nuremberg without being challenged by the Luftwaffe.

The RAF attack on the Blohm-Voss yard last night was the fifth heavy bomber raid on that objective within a week. The plant, which was described by the air ministry as probably the most important ship building yard in Germany, still employs 17,000 workers and is one of the main assembly points for the new prefabricated submarines.

The German air force suffered its worst defeat of the year during the weekend, as 192 of its carefully rationed planes were destroyed within a space of 24 hours.

The Eighth Air Force's losses for two days totaled 32 bombers and four fighters.

Targets of the Eighth Air Force yesterday included enemy airfields at Schacht, Untersaundersbach, Roth, Hof and Eger.

From all its weekend operations the RAF reported 13 aircraft missing.

RAF Liberators from Italy last night bombed the rail yards at Trento, junction of the Brenner route with the Venice line.

BULLETINS

Okinawa, April 9.—(P)—The mail man has been functioning on Okinawa since a week ago today—invasion day plus one. He even is operating the intricate bus system of processing V-mail.

Manila, April 9.—(P)—Former Japanese prison camp internees still in the Philippines were reduced to 1,200 today as 3,170 American and British Nationals departed and homeward aboard transport and hospital ships.

Stockholm, April 9.—(P)—Prime Minister Juho Paasikivi of Finland handed the resignation of his cabinet to Marshal Mannerheim today. The action had been expected following the recent national elections. Mannerheim asked the cabinet to remain in office pending the formation of a new government.

Detroit, April 9.—(P)—Approximately 5,500 employees of the Timken-Detroit Axle Co. returned to their jobs today following five days of idleness occasioned by a walk-out of 400 maintenance men.

San Francisco, April 9.—(P)—The appointments of Baron Kichiro Haranuma as president of the privy council and of Shigenori Togo as foreign minister and minister of East Asia affairs were announced by Tokyo today.

Savage Duels Rage in Southern Okinawa Soviet Armies Battle in Heart of Vienna

Cut Nazi Lines to Shreds in North

A powerful offensive by a quartet of northern Allied armies, with gains reported to reach 40 to 60 miles in 24 hours, has all but sealed off Nazi forces in Holland. In twin drives the British Second and U. S. Ninth armies reached Diepholz, 35 miles south of Bremen. The Canadian First Army broke into Zutphen, 35 miles from the North Sea, while on the southern anchor the U. S. Seventh Army captured Wuerzburg, 55 miles northwest of Nuremberg, Nazi heyday rallying ground.

Controversy Over Brunner Bill Is Facing a Showdown

Harrisburg, April 9.—(P)—Administration forces stood firm today in support of stricter acid mine drainage provisions in the Brunner clean stream bills as the session's top issue neared a final showdown.

The measure was up for a vote in the senate without an amendment proposed by Attorney General James H. Duff and backed by the Pennsylvania construction committee, which would ban dumping of acid drainage from new mines into clean streams until the commonwealth has a reasonable time to build diversion facilities.

Calling the proposal only sensible, Rep. Charles H. Brunner, Jr., (R-Montgomery), sponsor of the house-approved legislation to implement Governor Martin's stream clean-up campaign, said he will urge a senate-house conference to insert the provision should the upper chamber fail to act. A GOP senatorial caucus has been called to review the issue.

The senate also faced the possibility of a demand on the part of the Democratic minority for a legislative investigation of conditions at Eastern State Penitentiary where 12 prisoners escaped last week with four still at large.

The Democrats said they may demand an inquiry if the Republican majority insisted on seeking confirmation of the board of trustees on the prison.

Behind-the-scenes differences on re-enactment of the one cent emergency tax on gasoline, meantime, threatened to break into the open in the house. An attempt was in prospect there to amend a ways and means committee bill to allocate $17,000,000 to municipalities for road work in the next two years.

Still bottled up in committees were the controversial fair employment practices, school, housing, compensation and strip mining issues.

Similar action was announced by Great Britain, France, Canada, The Netherlands, and Latin American countries including Uruguay, Brazil, Colombia and Peru. Stettinius declined to discuss whether Argentina should be invited or would ask for United Nations membership, whether that subject had been discussed with Soviet Russia which has been highly critical of this Argentine government or whether eventually Argentina would participate in the San Francisco conference on an international organization.

New Justices On Superior Bench

Pittsburgh, April 9.—(P)—Cited as a "skilled, diligent and willing laborer in the vineyard of justice," Attorney John C. Arnold of Clearfield was sworn in and took his seat as a state superior court justice today—first kissing his comely wife, who sat in the front row of the courtroom.

The oath was administered by President Judge Thomas J. Baldrige.

Judge Arnold, former president of the Pennsylvania Bar Association, was appointed by Governor Martin to succeed the late William H. Keller, president judge of the court.

Two other jurists sat with the court for the first time in Pittsburgh today. They were F. Clair Ross of Butler, elected last fall, and W. Heber Dithrich, Coraopolis, appointed to fill a vacancy.

Russians Fight Into Schoenbrunn Park, Site of Summer Palace of the Hapsburg Monarchs

CLOSING ESCAPE GAP

London, April 9.—(P)—The flanks of battle rolled over three-fourths of Vienna today and the Germans said the Russians had fought into Schoenbrunn Park, site of the summer palace of the Hapsburg monarchs, and also had reached Franz Josef railway station in the northern part of the city.

In the south the Russians were fighting within a mile of the Ring, the circular street around the heart of the city, and in the north within 14 miles of the city's center. They were reported within 8 to 12 miles of closing the escape gap on the north side of the Danube.

Schoenbrunn Park is west and southwest of three railway stations already seized by the Russians in the southern part of the city.

The Germans said the Russians reached the Franz Josef railway station, depot controlling traffic northward out of the city, by advancing across the historic Kahlenberg, a mountain overlooking Vienna on the northwest, and through the famed wine-growing suburb of Grinzing.

Just east of Grinzing, the Germans said, the Russians were attempting to storm across the eastern bank of the Danube at Nussdorf, a suburb. Moscow dispatches already had crossed farther out, said it was believed the Russians in the vicinity of captured Klosterneuburg.

West of Vienna Soviet forces who captured Neulengbach, 15 miles from the city, were reported to have advanced several miles to within sight of St. Poelten on the Vienna-Linz railway. St. Poelten is less than 60 miles east of Linz, Austrian munitions town, and 190 miles from Munich.

In East Prussia, the Germans reported, Soviet forces battled into the center of Koenigsberg, long besieged fortress capital of the Junkers province.

Marshal Alexander Vasilievsky's tanks and tommygunners smashed into the city from both the southwest and northwest and reached the main railway station and the Pregel river which bisects the capital, Berlin said.

The city was ablaze and shrouded in smoke from heavy assaults by artillery and divebombers.

A Moscow announcement of the Koenigsberg drive came as the German radio declared the Russians may already have started their long-expected offensive against Berlin. Fall of the East (Turn to Page Seven)

Jap Dead In Philippines Now 314,854

By FRED HAMPSON
Manila, April 9.—(P)—The count of Japanese killed and captured in the Philippines reached 314,854 today as Gen. Douglas MacArthur added 6,495 dead and 179 prisoners to the official total of a week ago.

There was no new announcement of American casualties—by latest previous report around 30,000 killed, missing and wounded.

MacArthur's communique also disclosed an impressive toll of Japanese shipping—nearly three quarters of a million tons sunk or damaged—in the American air blockade of the south China sea during the first three months of 1945.

Blockading planes of the Fifth Army Air Force and attached naval aircraft, the communique said, sank 345,179 tons in the three months, probably sank 116,965 tons and damaged 274,295 tons.

For March alone corresponding tonnage was listed as 221,492; 44,645 and 108,630.

Ground fighting in the Philippines, which MacArthur announced yesterday had virtually completed liberation of southern Mindanao, continued particularly bitter in the Balale Pass sector of northern Luzon.

Somerset Has Drama Of Life and Death

Somerset, April 9.—(P)—A drama of life and death.
Second Lt. Theodore Harold Fisher, 23, a flight instructor, was killed Saturday in a fall from a plane during field training maneuvers near Palatine, Ill.

Less than 24 hours later, his child, a son, was born in Somerset hospital.

Former Co. I Officer Is War Casualty

News that Captain Elton A. Edmiston, of Clearfield RD 1, was killed in action on March 26, has been received by his wife over the weekend.
Graduate of Warren High School in 1928, the officer was employed by the Crescent Furniture Company prior to entering the service. He was a member of Company I, 112th Infantry Regiment, when it left Warren in February, 1941, and accompanied that unit to Indiantown Gap and to Camp Livingston, La.

Transferring from the 28th Division to the 89th, he was transferred to Camp Carson, Colo., and from there to Camp Butler, N. C., going overseas on January 25, 1945. Rated a second lieutenant when he left Warren, he had advanced to his present rating about two years ago.

Besides his wife, Janet Bundy Edmiston, he leaves two children, Maejean and Sally Ann; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Edmiston, Clearfield RD 1; one sister and three brothers, Mrs. Myrna Kingsley, Clearfield Heights; T/4 Edward Edmiston, with the medical department on a hospital ship; Foster Edmiston, Tiona, and Arnold Edmiston, metalsmith third class, in the Philippines.

Mrs. Helen Chase, 104 Main St., North Warren, received this morning a letter from her husband, Pfc. Keith E. Chase, from Stalag 4-B, German prisoner of war camp. Pfc. Chase, serving with the infantry, had been previously reported missing in action as of December 18.

In a letter dated January 18 and postmarked the 25th, he writes that he is well and safe and for family and friends not to worry. He would like to hear from home and would like particularly to have (Turn to Page Seven)

Japs Withdraw In Honan Province

Chungking, April 9.—(P)—Two Japanese columns were reported withdrawing into Honan province today after suffering setbacks at the hands of Chinese forces defending the Shensi border.

A Chinese communique said more than half of one column had been wiped out when it was surrounded in southwest Honan barely 30 miles from the Shensi frontier, and that Chinese forces were pursuing the remnants eastward.

The second Japanese column, striking toward Shensi from northwestern Honan, was reported routed after six hours fighting in which 400 of the invaders were slain.

Chinese forces pursuing the withdrawing enemy were said to be nearing Japanese-held Chang-Suichen on the Lo river 70 miles from the Shensi border.

FLOOD DISASTER IN LOUISIANA SPREADING

New Orleans, April 9.—(P)—The flood disaster in Louisiana which has left 30,000 families homeless continued to spread today but it was announced opening of the Morganza floodway would not be necessary.

Brig. Gen. Max C. Tyler, president of the Mississippi River Commission, who made the announcement, said the indicated Mississippi crest would not be higher than the 1937 flood, when the floodway was not used.

INFANTRYMEN MEET HEAVY RESISTANCE

Pillbox to Pillbox Fighting and 'Round-the-Clock Bombardments Are Countered

SUPER-WARSHIP SUNK

By LEIF ERICKSON
Guam, April 9.—(AP)—Japanese charging with fixed bayonets in their first counter-attack of the Okinawan campaign drove American troops off a dominating hill as tank-supported Yank infantrymen hammered at stubbornly defended caves and pillboxes beneath a developing artillery battle.

Nipponese poured out of caves and crags on southern Okinawa when Japanese tanks, artillery and mortars began blasting at five U. S. tanks lumbering through a field studded with 500 pound bombs which had been converted into land mines. The Japanese showed the tanks with Molotov cocktails and then charged Red Hill.

Three American tanks were lost. The Third battalion of the 184th regiment withdrew from the hill. Americans reformed last night, expecting strong opposition in their attempt to retake the hill.

Nipponese were strongly dug into crags, hills, ravines and caves on southern Okinawa, 325 miles from Japan. Behind them was the largest concentration of artillery encountered in the Pacific campaign, with heavier guns than they've used heretofore. These batteries kept up a swelling, round-the-clock duel with superior U. S. artillery.

Lightly opposed marines were swarming through northern Okinawa, cutting off Motobu peninsula with its former enemy submarine and torpedo base at Uten.

Ground resistance was about all Japan had to offer in the way of a defense. Its mighty 45,000 ton, super-battleship Yamato and five lesser warships were sunk Saturday in a suicidal attempt to come to the infantrymen's rescue. In all, 590 enemy warplanes were destroyed or damaged in thrusts at the Pacific fleet, at the Okinawa invasion force or at Mustang-escorted B-29s which raided Tokyo and Nagoya.

Immediately north of Okinawa's capital city of Naha, on a line stretching almost directly east across the island, the Japanese began their defense from well-prepared (Turn to Page Seven)

Motion Is Filed In Stewart Case

Pittsburgh, April 9.—(P)—U.S. Attorney Charles Uhl today filed in federal court a motion to modify a previous order and thus suspend and dismiss the case.

Pennsylvania secretary of health, Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker scheduled a hearing for April 16.

The U. S. Civil Service Commission instructed the papers be filed to conform with the Hatch anti-political act which requires the "aggrieved party" must be suspended during the pendency of appeal proceedings.

Federal court here last month stayed a commission ruling that Stewart be dismissed. The commission had cited Stewart and two former health department aides for violation of the Hatch Act. It notified the state to remove the three from state employment or to be penalized by withholding of federal funds equivalent to twice their annual salaries.

No Contests For Superior Court Judges

Harrisburg, April 9.—(P)—The lists close today throughout Pennsylvania for thousands of candidates at the June 19 municipal primary election.

Candidates for county, city, borough and township office have until the county courthouses close this afternoon to file petitions to get their names on the primary ballot.

Only candidates for superior court—the only state-wide offices at stake this year—and for county judges file their petitions at the state election bureau.

Unless last minute entries appear, both Republican and Democratic candidates for the state superior court will have no opposition for the party nomination.

Judges W. Heber Dithrich, of Pittsburgh, and John C. Arnold, of Clearfield, both appointed by Governor Martin to fill vacancies, are the Republican candidates. Democratic leaders picked John Morgan Davis, Philadelphia, and Judge A. Marshall Thompson, Pittsburgh, to oppose them at the November election.

Principal interest, on a statewide basis in this year's municipal election centers in the fight for mayor of Pittsburgh.

Tons of Reich Gold Reserve Inventoried By U. S. Officials

By EDWARD D. BALL
Merkers, Germany, April 9.—(P)—U. S. Army officers toiled in the depths of a German salt mine 2,100 feet underground today to inventory a captured hoard of gold and money which a Reichbank official said represented Germany's entire gold reserve.

More than 4,000 bags of gold bullion—each weighing 25 pounds and worth $14,000—already had been counted, but there still were tons of treasure yet to be inventoried.

There were indications that the final total might exceed the $100,000,000 estimate which Dr. Werner Vieck, Reichsbank director for the Erfurt district, placed on the value of the hoard.

Congressman Gavin To Aid Sportsmen

Congressman Leon Gavin spent some time in the city last week when he met with John Stewart, Frank Geer and Len Donaldson, representing the Warren Field and Stream Club, relative to the anti-pollution bills now in Congress. The Federal bills are aimed to clear the state streams of pollution coming into them from adjoining states. The sportsmen of this county are somewhat up in arms over the pollution in the Conewago from the City of Jamestown which has been known to kill fish all the way down the stream from Jamestown to Warren.

Congressman Gavin evinced great interest in the project of the local men and promised all proper aid.

The Field and Stream Club has contacted State Senators L. E. Chapman and James S. Berger as well as Assemblyman Allen Gibson and have had replies from all of them. U. S. Senator Myers has also replied to inquiries of the sportsmen and in fact he was the sponsor for one of the bills under consideration. Senator Guffy did not reply to letters sent to him.

The sportsmen are making a determined fight against the pollution of the streams of the state both by industry and municipalities and the organized effort over the state is bearing some fruit. It is expected that the Brunner Anti-Pollution bill now in the State Legislature will be passed today.

Hikers Had Fine Outing Sunday P. M.

The group that joined the Allegheny Hiking Club had a splendid trip yesterday afternoon on the 135th hike conducted by the organization. The group met at the General George Warren monument and taking cars drove to Hill Run. The afternoon was a beautiful one and on arrival at Hill Run the cars were parked and the group walked northwest and taking an old woods road reached Sentinel Rocks turning south across the Schuler farm and through the woods to Rocky Gap returning to the cars on the black top road.

The hikers covered five miles of most beautiful country and enjoyed many fine views that were new to many of the hikers. There are some magnificent vistas of scenery to be seen from the Rocks and many of the party were surprised at the wonderful stretch of country that can be seen from this point.

Deer Struck By Automobile Sunday A. M.

Warren was again invaded by deer on Sunday morning and one of the animals was hit by an automobile on Conewago avenue near the Walter Beatty home by a local motorist. The animal was knocked down and it was believed that it was hurt. Police investigated and the animal was found after a search of some time on Beatty field where it had lain down. A deputy game warden was called and he took charge of the case.

A two year old boy whose home was at 621 Prospect street was found Saturday at the Adams Market on upper Conewago avenue. The police succeeded in ascertaining the identity of the little fellow and returned him to his home. A report of another missing child was received on Sunday by the time police got a hunt for the lad organized he had been returned to his home.

Grass Fires Keep Forest Crews Busy

Grass fires on Sunday kept the fire fighting crews of the Department of Forests and Waters on the jump. During the day there were seven fires fought. Five of them were spot fires set by sparks from passing trains between Saybrook and Tiona. These were all extinguished in short order.

One fire atop Tanner Hill above Warren was fought. It burned over one-half acre and in addition to the truck of the Department of Forests and Waters the emergency truck of the local fire department was in action.

The last fire of the day was at Shipman's Eddy, where grass and brush were aflame. This was caught and extinguished quickly with one-fourth acre burned.

The danger of fire in the forests and on fields at this time of the year is great as the winds dry the woods in fast time and make them liable to burn. All who enter the woods are urged to exercise great care with fire and cigarette stubs as they are potential sources of big fires. And there is also the danger that careless action may result in heavy penalties as under the law the person who starts a fire is responsible for any loss occasioned.

Firemen waged a two hour battle Friday night at the Lexington avenue plant of the Solar Lamp Company when a fire started from a motor of the elevator in the center of the big brick building. The burning out of the motor caused the voltage to mount and start another small fire on the third floor and four sprinkler heads went into operation.

The big aerial ladder of the department was put into good use and the auxiliary electric plant carried on the ladder truck was rigged up and put in operation. Huge clouds of smoke rolled out of the plant and when the firemen arrived the outlook was for a serious fire. However prompt work extinguished the fire in short order. Many cartons of bulbs were wetted down and hundreds of bulbs were broken.

Under the direction of Fire Chief Alabaugh the firemen worked until 1:30 Saturday morning getting much of the debris cleared away and making sure that all fire was thoroughly extinguished.

Manager Stuart Myers, of the company stated this morning that the loss will be somewhere between $250 and $1000. Employees worked over the weekend and the plant continued in production this morning without interruption.

Tot Struck By Auto Is Still Unconscious

Sandra Kay McCulla, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCulla, Jackson Run road, is reported still unconscious in Warren General Hospital today as the result of an automobile accident which occurred about 4:30 p. m. Saturday.

The driver of the car, William M. Hill, 414 Conewago avenue, told Pennsylvania State Police who investigated the happening that he was traveling about 15 to 20 miles an hour, going west on Route 69, when he noted two children on opposite sides of the road. As he approached, one darted across the road to join her sister, passing directly in front of the car and he was unable to avoid striking her.

Also in the hospital is Isaac J. Peterson, 74, of North Warren, who is suffering shock, cuts about the face and has had chest x-rays taken to determine possible internal injuries, as the result of another Saturday night accident.

State Police investigating the occurrence have been unable to question Mr. Peterson but have learned from the other driver involved, Delbert Dalrymple, 1713 Dartmouth street, that the Peterson car made a left hand turn in front of Dalrymple at the intersection of Routes 69 and 62 in North Warren. Dalrymple suffered a cut on the back of his head but was discharged following emergency treatment.

Stray Leaves From Notebook Of Reporter About Town

The Sharon Herald has concluded a poll on the type of news that pleases the readers most in their paper and the poll shows some interesting facts which are as follows: Local, 53%; war, 54%; national, 43%; theaters, 42%; radio, 42%; deaths, 41%; advertising, 38%; church, 38%; sports, 37%; classified, 35%; and society, 32%.

Warren friends have been advised that Lawrence Riley has an interesting article coming up in the next number of the Satevepost due on the newsstands next week.

One of the old weather sharps who holds forth at the Bimber newstand reading Life and other magazines when they first arrive elucidated on spring peepers this morning. He says they are not tree frogs but three toads about the size of your thumb and brownish in color. The toads are elusive fellows and are best captured with the aid of a flash light. Incidentally they come out in the spring and the O. W. S. said at three times before spring comes. Meaning they must be frozen in three times. This morning made the second time so one more good heave and spring will be with us. . . Sunday the Allegheny Hiking Club will be out for a ramble over hill and dale for the first time in months. The deep snow sort of cramped the style of the hikers. . .

Mike Burke, 78, confined to his home in the East Side by a bit of the ailments that get into the bones at that stage of life is sort of chafing at the bit. He is a gardener of no mean sorts and is fairly itching to get out with fork and rake. Mike came to Warren from Ridgway when he was one year old and has been a darned good citizen ever since that time. . . Another grain train piled up Thursday night at Sergeant's spillage grain over a large area. This was the 17th wreck in this section during the last 19 days. The boys on the wreck train here have been getting plenty of overtime. The strain on the railroads due to the war and heavy transportation problems has been great and is being met in a wonderful way. . . Cherry crop may be frozen out by the smash of the old mercury last night. Hope not as we do like our cherry pie and peach cobbles. Yum, yum!

Seats Being Reserved For Big Minstrels

All persons planning to attend the North Warren Minstrels being presented April 17 and 18 are reminded that seats for the event are now being reserved.

The Warren ticket office, located at Stokes Studio, 312 Second avenue was open this afternoon and will be open Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 1 to 5. Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and next Monday afternoons reservations may be made at the North Warren Community House box office, at the same hours.

The committee wishes to emphasize that seats are being reserved solely as an accommodation for the show-goers, and that all holders of general admission tickets are entitled to exchange them for reserved seat tickets at the places and times mentioned above at no extra cost. Those who have not yet obtained their general admission tickets may get them from any member of the cast, or they may simply purchase reserved seat tickets at the Stokes Studio or North Warren Community House Box Office this week at the times stated.

Sales of real estate moving merrily along as the folks moving to Warren really must find a place to live and that is the only way to get a home, buy it. . . All to the piece of the real estate men. . . Bunk house of Penn's railroad here getting a good work out these days and nights as the crews get a bit of sleep getting forty winks between calls. . . Boys of the railway express company got another work out last night boosting a 2200 pound shipment from Struthers-Wells onto 580. These lads will soon have muscular development that'll make Charlie Atlas look foolish. . . Express company, truckers and railroad employees now listed as being employees of critical classification instead of essential as the demand is so great. . . Stops them from being drafted.

Sales of rayon stockings now held down to three pairs to a customer and the folks do say the supply is getting shorter and shorter—just the supply not stockings. . . Corry Journal records that one gal in that town telephoned state cops to come out and get her along a country road where she had alighted from a car driven by a boy friend. State cops always ready to oblige. . . Myer Kornrich circulating his petition for the office of District Attorney learns fast. He now carries a blotter. . . For the first time in history a gal carried a heavy sack in her pocket.

Brokenstraw Club Members Enjoy Dinner

Youngsville, April 9.—One hundred and thirty were seated at the dinner tables in the high school gymnasium Friday evening, April 6th, and enjoyed the excellent dinner of the Brokenstraw Fish and Game Club. This dinner marked the end of a successful membership drive. Elton Barton captained the winning team and Harland McAllister, as captain of the side which came in with a few less new members, acted as host at the dinner which was served and prepared by the members of the losing side. Merle Welsh and Warren Kay were in charge of the frying of the blue pike fillet which, together with scalloped potatoes, salad, olives, pickles, coffee, bread and butter and apple pie made up the dinner menu. Rev. Dwight Jack returned thanks before the meal.

Gurney Ball, president of the Youngsville Fish and Game Club, presided at the program period, and spoke a few words of welcome to the guests which included 15 members of Warren Field and Stream Club. The following guests were then introduced: Mr. Burdick of Tidout, game warden of Warren county, and Deputy Game Warden Clyde Hanson, Warren; Mac Geer of North Warren, county representative of the Sportsmen's Federation; Guy McKinley, president of Warren Field and Stream Club; Jay Pees, of the Department of Forestry; Walter Veber, fish warden of Erie county; Ross Bailey, fish warden of Warren county, and the principal speaker of the evening, Pennsylvania Fish Commissioner of Erie, Clifford Welsh. The Youngsville talk was Mr. Welsh's first official talk in Warren county, and he was received with applause. He emphasized the need of conservation in dealing with wild life of all forms. He complimented the Youngsville club for the large number of youths in their membership. He said this was the first county in which he had found junior membership of fish and game clubs.

Following the program announcement was made of the ten new directors of Brokenstraw Fish and Game Club, which are as follows: Elton Barton, Lyle Johnson, R. L. Mead, Warren Kay, Clarence Walter, Dr. W. H. Shortt, of Youngsville; Walter Peterson, Garland; Lester Donaldson, Spring Creek; and John Carr, Brokenstraw township.

The club expressed appreciation for the help during the evening of Miss Onetta Sheffer and Mrs. Ransome and all others whose work made this dinner so successful.

Opinion Of Judge Wade Important One

Judge Allison D. Wade rendered an opinion last week which is of state-wide importance. A tax sale, according to Judge Wade's ruling, will clear the real estate title of a Department of Public Assistance which was entered under one of its customary $2000 refund bonds.

For some years the department has granted assistance to indigents who own real estate and taken refunding bonds to protect the grants. These bonds were entered as judgments against the real estate of the indigent, but under the law their collection cannot be enforced against the home during the lifetime of the indigent or his heirs.

Some of these indigents have been unable to keep their taxes paid and the real estate has been sold at tax sale. It has ordinarily been understood that a tax sale will divest all judgment liens, but the department has taken the position that as an agency of the commonwealth it is not bound by the general law as to its judgments, and that they still remain as liens on the real estate after a tax sale to a third party.

In the case of Department of Public Assistance vs. John Udzienicz, Judge Wade handed down an opinion on April 6 in which he rules that a Department judgment, like any other judgment, is divested by a tax sale. This opinion, subject to appeal to the Superior Court, comes as a relief to all in Pennsylvania who had relied on tax sale law, and will have the effect of confirming tax titles against these refunding bonds of the Department.

Louis VII. of France, adopted the fleur-de-lis as the royal emblem.

HELP FOR HOLLAND

To most Americans the Dutch have always seemed a quaint people with their windmills, wooden shoes, tulips, storks, wide starched caps and wider breeches. We've chuckled at them and their queer clacking language, but we have also admired them for their industry and neatness, their apple-cheeked health, and their resourceful battle against the encroaching sea, says James Thrasher in an editorial written for The Times-Mirror and NEA Service.

Perhaps the average American's picture of the Netherlands has been a little distorted. The Dutch have known bitterness and unrest and bleak poverty. Yet in the main our impression of a healthy, happy people has probably been accurate. At least it was until May 10, 1940.

On that day, nearly five years ago, commenced what is doubtless the most tragic chapter of Dutch history. The Germans invaded the Low Countries to "protect" them from the Allies. Four days later, after the Dutch armies had capitulated, the Luftwaffe flew over the great city of Rotterdam unopposed, and bombed it to rubble.

From then on the night of terror grew blacker. The Nazis, early convinced that their brutality was not forgotten or forgiven by their Dutch neighbors, resorted to cruelty. The stout-hearted Dutch fought back as best they could with sabotage, passive resistance, disobedience and ridicule.

Last fall release seemed imminent. Allied armies drove up from Belgium to free the southern Netherlands provinces. The Germans held. And for the greater part of the country still in Nazi hands, the worst was only beginning.

The Germans opened dikes and dams and poured the bitter brine of sea water over land made sweet and fertile by the toil of generations. The important source of food thus lost cannot be reclaimed, it is thought, for at least ten years. Starvation thus was added to indignity and fear.

In the ruins of the once proud city of Rotterdam, and in the streets of Amsterdam and the Hague, Hollanders dropped and died of starvation each day. There was food only for the German conquerors. And their cruel fury apparently increased as defeat loomed nearer.

Now at last the day of liberation is at hand—not only for the Dutch but also for the English, as the Germans are driven from their V-bomb installations on the Netherlands coast. And there is nothing in all the present tide of Allied victory that brings greater cause for solemn rejoicing.

Relief organizations apparently are prepared to move in quickly once the Nazis are driven out. And there is urgent need for haste. The little country whose markets once abounded in golden butter and cheese, rich cream and other enticing food is now without even sufficient bread for most of its people. Each day's delay in bringing food to them will mean the death of hundreds more.

It is, in part, for such people as the Dutch that the President has asked us to tighten our belts. As we think of them we might reflect on the meagerness of the sacrifice we are asked to make.

The Allied offensive out of the Rhineland continues its eastward sweep of encirclement and annihilation across the Reich without encountering signs of German opposition sufficiently well organized to halt it. Here and there the Nazis are fighting frantically, but these islands of resistance lack the cohesion to make them more than locally effective.

The Allegheny Hiking Club has resumed, the trout season opens in another week and major league teams are ready for the opening next Monday. No doubt about it, spring is here.

The Russians, long busy with those tough German customers up front, are about ready to give some attention to a party of Japs who have been waiting around for some time. We can hardly wait to see what the boys in the back room are going to get.

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1925

The Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce has made plans for a trade tour through this section of the state, and Warren is included in the list of towns to be visited.

Work of finishing the new improved road between Glade and Weldbank will be undertaken in the near future. There remain some headings and other improvements which should be soon completed.

One of the most attractive country homes to be found in this section will be erected this summer in Barnes by the Horton family of Sheffield. The grounds will also be a feature.

During the summer, Manager George Sarvis will make a number of improvements at the Library Theatre. The side lights will be changed and a new front curtain installed. A number of other alterations will be made.

In 1935

Willie Mosconi, one of the nation's youngest top-flight billiard experts, will appear in Warren at the Elks lodge and at The Grotzinger Billiard Academy. Mosconi will give an hour's free instruction.

Superintendent J. G. Rossman has announced plans for clinics in the various grade schools for all children of pre-school age. The clinics will be conducted by Mrs. Ann Wright, school nurse.

There are 14 islands in the Cape Verde group, the largest of which is the size of the city of Los Angeles, while the smallest is measured in square yards rather than square miles.

"What Can You Spare That They Can Wear?"

(This is "Clean Out Your Clothes Closet Week.")

Lack of essential clothing, shoes and bedding is responsible for much of the suffering, sickness and death among the people of Greece. There, according to recent reports, one in every six persons is afflicted with tuberculosis and, unless the desperately needed apparel and bedding is quickly forthcoming, a tremendous rise in this disease can be expected, the medical authorities say.

America is the one current source of such supplies, not only for the Greeks but for the peoples of other war-devastated countries. Contributions of such materials from among the discarded things in American homes now are being assembled by the United National Clothing Collection, to meet these desperate needs. All Americans should contribute their used, but still serviceable, apparel and bedding.

There is a United National Clothing Collection receiving depot in your neighborhood. See that your spare apparel is delivered there.

SOCIETY NEWSElection and Past President's Night
Concludes Season For Woman's Group

The Woman's Aid of First Presbyterian church brought its current season to a close with a fine annual meeting and very enjoyable "Past Presidents' Night" which marked conclusion of 50 years of service to the church. Despite the cold turn taken by the weather, there was a large attendance for the event.

Mrs. Harold C. Warren opened the meeting with prayer, after which members enjoyed two flute solos played by Helen Claire Hulings, with Marcia Johnson at the piano.

Written invitations had been sent the 16 past presidents of the group and nearly all of these were present. Two who are shut-ins, Mrs. J. W. Kitchen and Mrs. Fletcher Parker, will receive special greetings from the group in letters to be sent by the secretary.

In an interesting resume presented by the president, Mrs. E. E. Koebly, it was learned the first president was Mrs. William Lindsey, mother of the late Judge Edward Lindsey, who served in 1894, when the congregation was worshipping in the old Presbyterian church. Mrs. Koebly presented the highlights of each past president's term and called upon those who were present for additional remarks. A motion was made that Mrs. Virgil Lesser prepare this resume for the groups records.

During the business portion of the meeting, Mrs. R. W. Mackay presented the report of the nominating committee and the following officers were elected for the new year: President, Mrs. Warren R. Carlin; first vice president, Mrs. Virgil Lesser; second vice president, Mrs. Paul Arnold; secretary, Mrs. Everett Eddy, re-elected; treasurer, Mrs. Neil Woodruff, re-elected.

Reports of the following committee heads were presented: Mrs. J. H. McBride, house and manse; Mrs. Walter Irwin, vestments; Mrs. Alice Anderson, communion; Mrs. T. N. Dunham, dinner committee.

Mrs. Carlin appointed the following for the new year: Nominating committee, Mrs. Moss Connolly, Mrs. C. L. Guignon, Mrs. Clifford Johnson; auditing committee, Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin and Mrs. Ralph Chester; member of advisory board, Mrs. Koebly.

To close the program, Miss Gladys Young was accompanied by Mrs. Carlin for two beautiful vocal numbers, "I Walked With God" by Guion and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

Concluding refreshments were served from an attractive table at which Mrs. Carlin and Mrs. Lesser presided.

Aid members under the direction of Mrs. Carlin are already at the task of planning the social hour which will follow the annual congregational meeting of the church at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

YES! YOU CAN GET EXTRA RED POINTS

MEAT SHORTAGES make saving fats harder these days. But there may be ways to save that you are missing. Won't you please check suggestions below?

Our country needs fats so urgently to help make medicines, explosives, soaps, synthetic rubber and other essentials on the war and home fronts.

FISH—you're using more of it these days. Scrape every drop of grease from the pan in which you fry or broil it.

SAUSAGES—they're plentiful and yield lots of grease in the frying pan. (And if you parboil them first, don't forget to save the water and skim off the grease!)

UTILITY MEATS—are good for stews and soups. Skim the grease as they cook. Chill them afterwards and scoop off the fat that hardens on top. (Gravies too!)

HOT DOGS—you'll get at least a tablespoon or two of grease from the cooking water. Even a teaspoon helps!

FAT SCRAPS—save them all in a bowl in the icebox. Once a week melt them down and add them to the salvage can.

AND BE SURE to keep the can right out where it's handy! Drop by drop, it will fill up faster than you think. Then rush it to your meat dealer and get those 2 red points and 4 cents for every pound of fat. Start today! This message has been approved by WFA and OPA and paid for by Industry.

WHERE NAZIS PLAN TO 'HOLE UP'

Map above shows Bavarian Alps area of southern Germany where top Nazi leaders expect to hold out, according to their secret "Plan K," uncovered by noted author Curt Riess in a daring trip into unoccupied Germany. He reports that 100,000 picked troops are already in the Reduit. Nazi big shots, according to Riess, have already moved into the hideaways indicated on map. The escape plan is said to be of long standing, but decision to put it in operation, with a zero hour set, was made at a meeting of Hitler, Himmler and Wehrmacht generals at Berchtesgaden on March 29.

BRITISH SECOND REPORTED TO BE SENDING SHELLS WHINING INTO NAVAL BASE OF BREMEN

Shattered German Armies Reported in Gen. Bradley's Communique to Have Been Bled By 500,000 in Past Ten Days

CANADIANS WITHIN TEN MILES OF ZUIDER ZEE

By JAMES M. LONG
Paris, April 9.—(P)—The Allies, having exacted 500,000 casualties from the Germans in ten days, cut the last railway from western Holland today, trapping the bulk of 80,000 more Germans believed still in The Netherlands.

The American Ninth and British Second armies fought within sight of the shelled and burning north German cities of Hannover and Bremen. They were within 50 miles of the Elbe river at Hamburg and 70 of the stream at Nagdeburg. The Elbe is the later water barrier on the flat country leading to Berlin and flows within 50 miles of the capital.

Hannover and Bremen both were five miles from Allied infantry and tanks. An entry into both was imminent, although the Germans were fighting hard for Bremen, one of their greatest ports and ship-building centers.

R. A. F. Blasts U-Boat Yards At Hamburg

BULLETIN

London, April 9.—(P)—More than 1,250 American heavy bombers and 750 fighters smashed 10 German airfields, an underground oil storage depot and a powder plant, all within a 60-mile radius of Munich today. RAF Lancasters escorted by Spitfires and Mustangs unloaded 11-ton and 6-ton bombs on U-boat shelters at Hamburg and attacked oil storage depots at the North Sea port.

By HENRY B. JAMESON

London, April 9.—(P)—An armada of more than 900 RAF heavy bombers blasted the Blohm-Voss submarine yards at Hamburg and the Lutzendorf synthetic oil plant near Leipzig last night, while fleet Mosquitos rocked Berlin with another dose of two-ton block-busters.

The raids followed up sweeping assaults on Germany yesterday by more than 1,950 planes of the U. S. Eighth Air Force, which bombed 11 targets between Berlin and Nuernberg without being challenged by the Luftwaffe.

The RAF attack on the Blohm-Voss yard last night was the fifth heavy bomber raid on that objective within a week. The plant, which was described by the air ministry as probably the most important ship building yard in Germany, still employs 17,000 workers and is one of the main assembly points for the new prefabricated submarines.

The German air force suffered its worst defeat of the year during the weekend, as 192 of its carefully rationed planes were destroyed within a space of 24 hours.

The Eighth Air Force's losses for two days totaled 32 bombers and four fighters.

Targets of the Eighth Air Force yesterday included enemy airfields at Schachtel, Untersaundersbach, Roth, Hof and Eger.

From all its weekend operations the RAF reported 13 aircraft missing.

BULLETINS

Okinawa, April 9.—(P)—The mail plane has been functioning on Okinawa since a week ago today—invasion day plus one. He even is operating the intricate business of processing V-mail.

Manila, April 9.—(P)—Former Japanese prison camp internees still in the Philippines were reduced to 1,200 today as 3,170 American and British Nationals departed homeward aboard transport and hospital ships.

Stockholm, April 9.—(P)—Premier Juho Paasikivi of Finland handed the resignation of his cabinet to Marshal Mannerheim today. The action had been expected following the recent national elections. Mannerheim asked the cabinet to remain in office pending the formation of a new government.

Detroit, April 9.—(P)—Approximately 6,500 employees of the Timken-Detroit Axle Co. returned to their jobs today following five days of idleness occasioned by a walk-out of 400 maintenance men.

San Francisco, April 9.—(P)—The appointments of Baron Kichiro Harauna as president of the privy council and of Shigenori Togo as foreign minister and minister of East Asia affairs were announced by Tokyo radio today.

Savage Duels Rage in Southern Okinawa Soviet Armies Battle in Heart of Vienna

Cut Nazi Lines to Shreds in North

A powerful offensive by a quartet of northern Allied armies, with gains reported to reach 40 to 60 miles in 24 hours, has all but sealed off Nazi forces in Holland. In twin drives the British Second and U. S. Ninth armies reached Diepholz, 35 miles south of Bremen. The Canadian First Army broke into Zutphen, 35 miles from the North Sea, while on the southern anchor the U. S. Seventh Army captured Wuerzburg, 55 miles northwest of Nuernberg, Nazi heyday rallying ground.

Controversy Over Brunner Bill Is Facing a Showdown

Harrisburg, April 9.—(P)—Administration forces stood firm today in support of stricter acid mine drainage provisions in the Brunner clean stream bills as the session's top issue neared a final showdown.

The measure was up for a vote in the senate without an amendment proposed by Attorney General James H. Duff and backed by the Pennsylvania construction committee, which would ban dumping of acid drainage from new mines into clean streams until the commonwealth has a reasonable time to build diversion facilities.

Calling the proposal only sensible, Rep. Charles H. Brunner, Jr., (R-Montgomery), sponsor of the house-approved legislation to implement Governor Martin's stream clean-up campaign, said he will urge a senate-house conference to insert the provision should the upper chamber fail to act. A GOP senatorial caucus has been called to review the issue.

The senate also faced the possibility of a demand on the part of the Democratic minority for a legislative investigation of conditions at Eastern State Penitentiary where 12 prisoners escaped last week with four still at large.

The Democrats said they may demand an inquiry if the Republican majority insisted on seeking the confirmation of the board of trustees on the prison.

Behind-the-scenes differences on re-enactment of the one cent emergency tax on gasoline, meantime, threatened to break into the open in the house. An attempt was in prospect there to amend a ways and means committee bill to allocate $17,000,000 to municipalities for road work in the next two years.

Still bottled up in committees were the controversial fair employment practices, school, housing, compensation and strip mining issues.

CLOSING ESCAPE GAP

London, April 9.—(P)—The flame of battle rolled over three-fourths of Vienna today and the Germans said the Russians had fought into Schoenbrunn Park, site of the summer palace of the Hapsburg monarchs, and also had reached Franz Josef railway station in the northern part of the city.

In the south the Russians were fighting within a mile of the Ring, the circular street around the heart of the city, and in the north within 1 1/2 miles of the city's center. They were reported within 8 to 12 miles of closing the escape gap on the north side of the Danube.

Schoenbrunn Park is west and southwest of three railway stations already seized by the Russians in the southern part of the city. Schoenbrunn Palace rivals Versailles in its sumptuous plan.

The Germans said the Russians reached the Franz Josef railway station, depot controlling traffic northward out of the city, by advancing across the historic Kahlenberg, a mountain overlooking Vienna on the northwest, and through the famed wine-growing suburb of Grinzing.

Just east of Grinzing, the Germans said, the Russians were attempting to storm across the eastern bank of the Danube at Nuernberg, a suburb. Moscow dispatches already had crossed farther out, said it was believed the Russians in the vicinity of captured Klosterneuburg.

West of Vienna Soviet forces who captured Neulengbach, 15 miles from the city, were reported to have advanced several miles to within sight of St. Poelten on the Vienna-Linz railway. St. Poelten is less than 60 miles east of Linz, Austrian munitions town, and 190 miles from Munich.

In East Prussia, the Germans reported, Soviet forces battled into the center of Koenigsberg, long besieged fortress capital of the Junkers province.

Marshal Alexander Vasilievsky's tanks and tommygunners smashed into the city from both the southwest and northwest and reached the main railway station and the Pregl river which bisects the capital, Berlin said.

The city was ablaze and shrouded in smoke from heavy assaults by artillery and divebombers.

A Moscow announcement of the Koenigsberg drive came as the German radio declared the Russians may already have started their long-expected offensive against Berlin. Fall of the East (Turn to Page Seven)

Soft Coal Wage Negotiators Seek New Contract As Hopes For Swift Agreement Fade

Somerset Has Drama Of Life and Death

Somerset, April 9.—(P)—A drama of life and death.

Second Lt. Theodore Harold Fisher, 23, a flight instructor, was killed Saturday in a fall from a plane during field training maneuvers near Palatine, Ill.

Less than 24 hours later, his child, a son, was born in Somerset hospital.

Washington, April 9.—(P)—Subcommittees of soft coal operators and miners who set out to perfect a new contract over the weekend re-assembled today as earlier signs of swift agreement blurred.

The groups were assigned Saturday to work out specific contract problems after the then-deteriorating negotiations were suddenly revived by John L. Lewis. The operators then called off their pl to report a stalemate to the War Labor Board.

Instead, Lewis and the operators joined in a message to WLB predicting agreement, at least in principle, by tonight.

The proposal most under discussion over the weekend was understood to provide $1.25 a day in "fringe" wage adjustments for the miners, and to exclude Lewis' most spectacular demand, for a 10-cent a ton "participating royalty."

The subcommittees were scheduled to meet today and to report to the full wage conference.

The Mine Workers' 250-man "policy committee," which must pass on any agreement or approve any major change Lewis might make, meets at 3:30 p. m.

Some operators who declined to be quoted by name indicated that prospects of accord were gloomy last night. They said that Lewis' attitude stiffened on Sunday and that unless there should be a "considerable relaxation" by the union in its demands the issues would have to be referred to the WLB after all.

Union officials could not be reached for comment on this view. The miners are working under a 30-day extension of their contract which ran out March 31. A series of wildcat work stoppages last week for a time portended early government seizure action.

Pittsburgh, April 9.—(P)—Though some 8,000 of the Pennsylvania soft coal miners involved in week-long work stoppages voted to resume work, other thousands were expected to remain idle today and some said they would not return to their jobs until operators sign a new contract.

Union officials could not be reached for comment on this view. The miners are working under a 30-day extension of their contract

Congressman Gavin To Aid Sportsmen

Congressman Leon Gavin spent some time in the city last week when he met with John Stewart, Frank Geer and Len Donaldson, representing the Warren Field and Stream Club, relative to the anti-pollution bills now in Congress. The Federal bills are aimed to clear the state streams of pollution coming into them from adjoining states. The sportsmen of this county are somewhat up in arms over the pollution in the Conewango from the City of Jamestown which has been known to kill fish all the way down the stream from Jamestown to Warren.

Congressman Gavin evinced great interest in the project of the local men and promised all proper aid.

The Field and Stream Club has contacted State Senators L. E. Chapman and James S. Berger as well as Assemblyman Allen Gibson and have had replies from all of them. U. S. Senator Myers has also replied to inquiries of the sportsmen and in fact he was the sponsor for one of the bills under consideration. Senator Guffey did not reply to letters sent to him.

The sportsmen are making a determined fight against the pollution of the streams of the state both by industry and municipalities and the organized effort over the state is bearing some fruit. It is expected that the Brunner Anti-Pollution bill now in the State Legislature will be passed today.

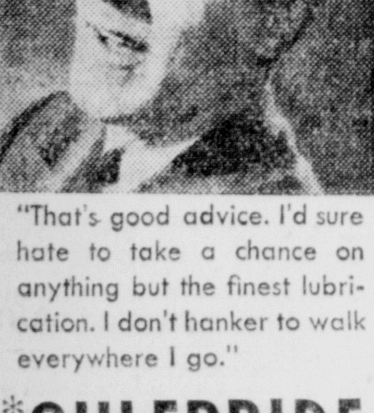

"What a blow! Now I find out it may be V-Day plus maybe two or three years before I can get one."

Hikers Had Fine Outing Sunday P. M.

The group that joined the Allegheny Hiking Club had a splendid trip yesterday afternoon on the 136th hike conducted by the organization. The group met at the General Joseph Warren monument and taking cars drove to Hill Run. The afternoon was a beautiful one and on arrival at Hill Run the cars were parked and the group walked northwest and taking an old woods road reached Sentinel Rocks burning south across the Schuler arm and through the woods to Rocky Gap returning to the cars on the black top road.

The hikers covered five miles of most beautiful country and enjoyed many fine views that were new to many of the hikers. There are some magnificent vistas of scenery to be seen from the Rocks and many of the party were surprised at the wonderful stretch of country that can be seen from this point.

"But my Gulf man cheered me up. Said he'd help keep my present car rolling, if I'd let him give it the Gulfpride* and Gulflex treatment regularly."

Deer Struck By Automobile Sunday A. M.

Warren was again invaded by deer on Sunday morning and one of the animals was hit by an automobile on Conewango avenue near the Walter Beatty home by a local motorist. The animal was knocked down and it was believed that it was hurt. Police investigated and the animal was found after a search of some time on Beatty field where it had lain down. A deputy game warden was called and he took charge of the case.

A two year old boy whose home was at 621 Prospect street was found Saturday at the Adams Market on upper Conewango avenue. The police succeeded in ascertaining the identity of the little fellow and returned him to his home. A report of another missing child was received on Sunday by the time police got on hunt for the lad organized he had been returned to his home.

Grass Fires Keep Forest Crews Busy

Grass fires on Sunday kept the fire fighting crews of the Department of Forests and Waters on the jump. During the day there were seven fires fought. Five of them were spot fires set by sparks from passing trains between Saybrook and Tiona. These were all extinguished in short order.

One fire atop Tanner Hill above Warren was fought. It burned over one-half acre and in addition to the truck of the Department of Forests and Waters the emergency truck of the local fire department was in action.

The last fire of the day was at Shipman's Eddy, where grass and brush were aflame. This was caught and extinguished quickly with one-fourth acre burned.

The danger of fire in the forests and on fields at this time of the year is great as the winds dry the woodlands in fast time and make them liable to burn. All who enter the woods are urged to exercise great care with fire and cigarette stubs as they are potential sources of big fires. And there is also the danger that careless action may result in heavy penalties as under the law the person who starts a fire is responsible for any loss occasioned.

Firemen Make Good Stop At Sunray Electric Co. Plant

Firemen waged a two hour battle Friday night at the Lexington avenue plant of the Solar Lamp Company when a fire started from a motor of the elevator in the center of the big brick building. The burning out of the motor caused the voltage to mount and start another small fire on the third floor and four sprinkler heads went into operation.

The big aerial ladder of the department was put into good use and the auxiliary electric plant carried on the ladder truck was rigged up and put in operation. Huge clouds of smoke rolled out of the plant and when the firemen arrived the outlook was for a serious fire. However prompt work extinguished the fire in short order. Many cartons of bulbs were wetted down and hundreds of bulbs were broken.

Under the direction of Fire Chief Alabough the firemen worked until 1:30 Saturday morning getting much of the debris cleared away and making sure that all fire was thoroughly extinguished.

Manager Stuart Myers, of the company stated this morning that the loss will be somewhere between $250 and $1000. Employees worked over the weekend and the plant continued in production this morning without interruption.

Tot Struck By Auto Is Still Unconscious

Sandra Kay McCulla, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCulla, Jackson Run road, is reported still unconscious in Warren General Hospital today as the result of an automobile accident which occurred about 4:30 p. m. Saturday.

The driver of the car, William M. Hill, 414 Conewango avenue, told Pennsylvania State Police who investigated the happening that he was traveling about 15 to 20 miles an hour, going west on Route 69, when he noted two children on opposite sides of the road. As he approached, one darted across the road to join her sister, passing directly in front of the car and he was unable to avoid striking her.

Also in the hospital is Isaac J. Peterson, 74, of North Warren, who is suffering shock, cuts about the face and has had chest x-rays taken to determine possible internal injuries, as the result of another Saturday night accident.

State Police investigating the occurrence have been unable to question Mr. Peterson but have learned from the other driver involved, Delbert Dalrymple, 1734 Dartmouth street, that the Peterson car made a left hand turn in front of Dalrymple at the intersection of Routes 69 and 62 in North Warren. Dalrymple suffered a cut on the back of his head but was discharged following emergency treatment.

Stray Leaves From Notebook Of Reporter About Town

The Sharon Herald has concluded a poll on the type of news that pleases the readers most in their paper and the poll shows some interesting facts which are as follows: Local, 58%; war, 54%; national, 43%; theaters, 42%; radio, 42%; deaths, 41%; advertising, 38%; church, 38%; sports, 37%; classified, 35%; and society, 32%.

Warren friends have been advised that Lawrence Riley has an interesting article coming up in the next number of the Satevepost due on the newsstands next week.

One of the old weather sharps who holds forth at the Bimber newstand reading Life and other magazines when they first arrive elucidated on spring peepers this morning. He says they are not tree frogs but three toads about the size of your thumb and brownish in color. The toads are elusive fellows and are best captured with the aid of a flash light. Incidentally they come out in the spring and the O. W. S. said as now they "had to look through glass three times before spring comes." Meaning they must be frozen in three times. This morning made the second time so one more good heave and spring will be with us. . . . Sunday the Allegheny Hiking Club will be out for a ramble over hill and dale for the first time in months. The deep snow sort of cramped the style of the hikers. . . .

Mike Burke, 78, confined to his home in the East Side by a bit of the ailments that get into the bones at that stage of life is a gardener of no mean sorts and is fairly itching to get out with fork and rake. Mike came to Warren from Ridgway when he was one year old and has been a dandy good citizen ever since that time.

Another grain train piled up Thursday night at Sergeant's spillage grain over a large area. This was the 17th wreck in this section during the last 19 days. The boys on the wreck train have been getting plenty of overtime. The strain on the railroads due to the war and heavy transportation problems has been great and is being met in a wonderful way. . . . Cherry crop may be frozen out by the smash of the old mercury last night. Hope not as we do like our cherry pie and peach cobbles. Yum, yum!

Seats Being Reserved For Big Minstrels

All persons planning to attend the North Warren Minstrels being presented April 17 and 18 are reminded that seats for the event are now being reserved.

The Warren ticket office, located at Stokes Studio, 312 Second avenue was open this afternoon and will be open Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 1 to 5. Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and next Monday afternoons reservations may be made at the North Warren Community House box office, at the same hours.

The committee wishes to emphasize that seats are being reserved solely as an accommodation for the show-goers, and that all holders of general admission tickets are entitled to exchange them for reserved seats mentioned above at no extra cost. Those who have not yet obtained their general admission tickets may get them from any member of the cast, or they may simply purchase reserved seat tickets at the Stokes Studio or North Warren Community House Box Office this week at the times stated.

Sales of real estate moving merrily along as the folks moving to Warren really must find a place to live and that is the only way to get a home, buy it. . . . All to the glee of the real estate men. Bunk house of Pombly railroad here getting a good work out these days and nights as the crews get a bit of sleep getting forty winks between calls. . . . Boys of the railway express company got another work out last night boosting a 2200 pound shipment from Struthers-Vells onto 580. These lads will soon have muscular development that'll make Charlie Atlas look foolish. . . . Express company, truckers and railroad employees now listed as being employees of critical classification instead of essential as the demand is so great. . . . Stops them from being drafted.

Sales of rayon stockings now held down to three pairs to a customer and the folks do say the supply is getting shorter and shorter—just the supply not stockings. . . . Carry Journal records that one gal in that town telephoned state cops to come out and get her along a country road where she had alighted from a car driven by a boy friend. State cops always ready to oblige. . . . Myer Kornrich circulating his petition for the office of District Attorney learns fast. He now carries a blotter. . . . For the first time in history a gal carried a heavy sack in her pocket.

Brokenstraw Club Members Enjoy Dinner

Youngsville, April 9.—One hundred and thirty were seated at the dinner tables in the high school gymnasium Friday evening, April 6th, and enjoyed the excellent dinner of the Brokenstraw Fish and Game Club. This dinner marked the end of a successful membership drive. Elton Barton captained the winning team and Harland McAllister, as captain of the side which came in with a few less new members, acted as host at the dinner which was served and prepared by the members of the losing side. Merle Welsh and Warren Kay were in charge of the trying of the blue pike fillet which, together with scalloped potatoes, salad, olives, pickles, coffee, bread and butter and apple pie made up the dinner menu. Rev. Dwight Jack returned thanks before the meal.

Gurney Ball, president of the Youngsville Fish and Game Club, presided at the program period, and spoke a few words of welcome to the guests which included 15 members of Warren Field and Stream Club. The following guests were then introduced: Mr. Burdick of Titoute, game warden of Warren county, and Deputy Game Warden Clyde Hanson, Warren; Mac Geer of North Warren, county representative of the Sportsmen's Federation; Guy McKinley, president of Warren Field and Stream Club; Jay Pees, of the Department of Forestry; Walter Weber, fish warden of Erie county; Ross Bailey, fish warden of Warren county, and the principal speaker of the evening, Pennsylvania Fish Commissioner of Erie, Clifford Welsh. The Youngsville talk was Mr. Welsh's first official talk in Warren county, and he was received with applause. He emphasized the need of conservation in dealing with wild life of all forms. He complimented the Youngsville club for the large number of youths in their membership. He said this was the first county in which he had found junior membership of fish and game clubs.

Following the program announcement was made of the ten new directors of Brokenstraw Fish and Game Club, which are as follows: Elton Barton, Lyle Johnson, R. L. Mead, Warren Kay, Clarence Walter, Dr. W. H. Shortt, of Youngsville; Walter Peterson, Garland; Mark Summerson, Pittsfield; Lester Donison, Spring Creek, and John Carr, Brokenstraw township.

The club expressed appreciation for the help during the evening of Miss Onelta Sheffer and Mrs. Ransome and all others whose work made this dinner so successful.

Opinion Of Judge Wade Important One

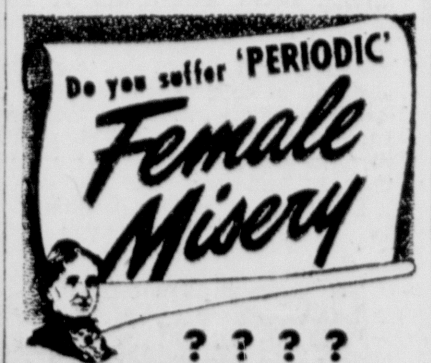

Judge Allison D. Wade rendered an opinion last week which is of state-wide importance. A tax sale, according to Judge Wade's ruling, will clear the real estate title of a Department of Public Assistance.

For some years the department has granted assistance to indigents who own real estate and later claiming bonds to protect its grants. These bonds were entered as judgments against the real estate of the indigent, but under the law their collection cannot be enforced against the home during the lifetime of the indigent or his heirs.

Some of these indigents have been unable to keep their taxes paid and the real estate has been sold at tax sale. It has ordinarily been understood that a tax sale will divest all judgment liens, but the department has taken the position that as an agency of the commonwealth it is not bound by the general law as to its judgments, and that they still remain as liens on the real estate after a tax sale to a third party.

In the case of Department of Public Assistance vs. John Udziencicz, Judge Wade handed down an opinion on April 6 in which he rules that a Department judgment, like any other judgment, is divested by a tax sale. This opinion, subject to appeal to the Superior Court, comes as a relief to all in Pennsylvania who had relied on tax sale law, and will have the effect of confirming tax titles against these refunding bonds of the Department.

HELP FOR HOLLAND
To most Americans the Dutch have always seemed a quaint people with their windmills, wooden shoes, tulips, storks, wide starched caps and wider breeches. We've chuckled at them and their queer clacking language, but we have also admired them for their industry and neatness, their apple-cheeked health, and their resourceful battle against the encroaching sea, says James Thrasher in an editorial written for The Times-Mirror and NEA Service.
Perhaps the average American's picture of the Netherlands has been a little distorted. The Dutch have known bitterness and unrest and bleak poverty. Yet in the main our impression of a healthy, happy people has probably been accurate. At least it was until May 10, 1940.
On that day, nearly five years ago, commenced what is doubtless the most tragic chapter of Dutch history. The Germans invaded the Low Countries to "protect" them from the Allies. Four days later, after the Dutch armies had capitulated, the Luftwaffe flew over the great city of Rotterdam unopposed, and bombed it to rubble.
From then on the night of terror grew blacker. The Nazis, early convinced that their brutality was not forgotten or forgiven by their Dutch neighbors, resorted to cruelty. The stout-hearted Dutch fought back as best they could with sabotage, passive resistance, disobedience and ridicule.
Last fall release seemed imminent. Allied armies drove up from Belgium to free the southern Netherlands provinces. The Germans held. And for the greater part of the country still in Nazi hands, the worst was only beginning.
The Germans opened dikes and dams and poured the bitter brine of sea water over land made sweet and fertile by the toil of generations. The important source of food thus lost cannot be reclaimed, it is thought, for at least ten years. Starvation thus was added to indignity and fear.
In the ruins of the once proud city of Rotterdam, and in the streets of Amsterdam and the Hague, Hollanders dropped and died of starvation each day. There was food only for the German conquerors. And their cruel fury apparently increased as defeat loomed nearer.
Now at last the day of liberation is at hand—not only for the Dutch but also for the English, as the Germans are driven from their V-bomb installations on the Netherlands coast. And there is nothing in all the present tide of Allied victory that brings greater cause for solemn rejoicing.
Relief organizations apparently are prepared to move in quickly once the Nazis are driven out. And there is urgent need for haste. The little country whose markets once abounded in golden butter and cheese, rich cream and other enticing food is now without even sufficient bread for most of its people. Each day's delay in bringing food to them will mean the death of hundreds more.
It is, in part, for such people as the Dutch that the President has asked us to tighten our belts. As we think of them we might reflect on the meagerness of the sacrifice we are asked to make.
The Allied offensive out of the Rhineland continues its eastward sweep of encirclement and annihilation across the Reich without encountering signs of German opposition sufficiently well organized to halt it. Here and there the Nazis are fighting frantically, but these islands of resistance lack the cohesion to make them more than locally effective.
The Allegheny Hiking Club has resumed, the trout season opens in another week and major league teams are ready for the opening next Monday. No doubt about it, spring is here.
The Russians, long busy with those tough German customers up front, are about ready to give some attention to a party of Japs who have been waiting around for some time. We can hardly wait to see what the boys in the back room are going to get.

"What Can You Spare That They Can Wear?"
(This is "Clean Out Your Clothes Closet Week.")
Lack of essential clothing, shoes and bedding is responsible for much of the suffering, sickness and death among the people of Greece. There, according to recent reports, one in every six persons is afflicted with tuberculosis and, unless the desperately needed apparel and bedding is quickly forthcoming, a tremendous rise in this disease can be expected, the medical authorities say.
America is the one current source of such supplies, not only for the Greeks but for the peoples of other war-devastated countries. Contributions of such materials from among the discarded things in American homes now are being assembled by the United National Clothing Collection, to meet these desperate needs. All Americans should contribute their used, but still serviceable, apparel and bedding.

Second Marriage
By EVELYN MURRAY CAMPBELL
Chapter 27
THE familiar room was as it had always been, the trees, the flowers in winter borders set by Hamuri's careful hands. Nothing had happened here because thousands of miles away ships were still burning and men had died trying to defend them. This was a world of peace, too far away to let its people be hurt.
The two thoughts were incompatible, not to be brought together, ends that wouldn't meet.
Those three clung to her with their love and dependence and she had to be free to think. She left them presently and went down and got into her car and drove aimlessly around the town.
There were a great many cars at the beach, the people all looking at the Pacific, like Peter, as if they had never seen it before. Some of them went down to the water's edge and lingered there, kicking at pebbles and shells. In a dumb, defiant way they were trying to say that this was their water, their shore.
She saw people she knew and some of them were grave and anxious, barely nodding or not recognizing her at all, and some were talking vivaciously. "Isn't it frightful? They say we haven't a warship left."
She stopped for gas and the attendant let the gauge overflow. He was a handsome boy with college written all over him but he was filling tanks for a living.
"I'll join the Navy, I think." His eyes were excited under wavy brown hair. "They'll want a new navy now."
"I don't believe it," Cynthia said. "It couldn't be that bad. Everybody's exaggerating. They don't know what really happened."
"Don't they?" The smell of wasted gasoline was overpowering.
The streets were very dark. She turned the car into the Pass and it was a yawning black tunnel with even the car lights turning dull yellow as they approached. She changed her own to the dimmers, realizing that this was what other drivers had done.
She would find Carey and Vera and make them come home with her. They must all be together tonight. She said this over and over, bolstering her courage.
SHE was driving carefully and slow when the screeching and screaming of whistles began. The wall of fire alarms, the unidentified noise that came from all points to beat against her ears and paralyze her arms. And then blackness, such blackness as she had never known. The Pass that had been gentle, gracious unfolding hills, of winding roads and trees, became walls of solid blackness shutting her in.
A car bumped into the rear guard of her own. A man swore and a woman screamed. There were hundreds of cars, materializing out of nothing. A motor bicycle clanked along and someone was shouting. "Lights out! Lights out!" And lights went out.
All at once she was thinking of the little Wisconsin lake and the woods around it, dark like this but not dreadful, and Carey with her under the tarp shelter, and the night they were married. She hadn't been afraid then, or noticed the deep darkness of the pines. Darkness had been friendly then... sheltering, kind.
A sob came into her throat and the motorist behind her began to swear again in a monotonous undertone. It was intolerable to sit in the car alone when everybody else had someone. She could hear the woman who had screamed telling her husband not to mind; it would soon be over. She could get out and ask questions of other people but with her hand on the door she did not dare. She was a woman alone.

Election and Past President's Night Concludes Season For Woman's Group

The Woman's Aid of First Presbyterian church brought its current season to a close with a fine annual meeting and very enjoyable "Past Presidents' Night" which marked conclusion of 50 years of service to the church. Despite the cold turn taken by the weather, there was a large attendance for the event.

Mrs. Harold C. Warren opened the meeting with prayer, after which members enjoyed two flute solos played by Helen Claire Hulings, with Marcia Johnson at the piano.

Written invitations had been sent the 16 past presidents of the group and nearly all of these were present. Two who are shut-ins, Mrs. J. W. Kitchen and Mrs. Fletcher Parker, will receive special greetings from the group in letters to be sent by the secretary.

In an interesting resume presented by the president, Mrs. E. E. Koebley, it was learned the first president was Mrs. William Lindsey, mother of the late Judge Edward Lindsey, who served in 1894, when the congregation was worshipping in the old Presbyterian church. Mrs. Koebley presented the highlights of each past president's term and called upon those who were present for additional remarks. A motion was made that Mrs. Virgil Lesser prepare this resume for the groups records.

During the business portion of the meeting, Mrs. R. W. Mackay presented the report of the nominating committee and the following officers were elected for the new year: President, Mrs. Warren R. Carlin; first vice president, Mrs. Virgil Lesser; second vice president, Mrs. Paul Arnold; secretary, Mrs. Everett Eddy, reelected; treasurer, Mrs. Neil Woodruff, reelected.

Reports of the following committee heads were presented: Mrs. J. H. McBride, house and manse; Mrs. Alice Irwin, vestments; Mrs. Alice Anderson, communion; Mrs. T. N. Dunham, dinner committee.

Mrs. Carlin appointed the following for the new year: Nominating committee, Mrs. Moss Connelly, Mrs. C. L. Guignon, Mrs. Clifford Johnson; auditing committee, Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin and Mrs. Ralph Chester; member of advisory board, Mrs. Koebley.

To close the program, Miss Gladys Young was accompanied by Mrs. Carlin to two beautiful vocal numbers, "I Walked With God" by Guion and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

Concluding, refreshments were served from an attractive table at which Mrs. Carlin and Mrs. Lesser presided.

Aid members under the direction of Mrs. Carlin are already at the task of planning the social hour which will follow the annual congregational meeting of the church at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

YES! YOU CAN GET EXTRA RED POINTS

MEAT SHORTAGES makes saving fats harder these days. But there may be ways to save that you are missing. Won't you please check suggestions below?

Our country needs fats so urgently to help make medicines, explosives, soaps, synthetic rubber and other essentials on the war and home fronts.

FISH—you're using more of it these days. Scrape every drop of grease from the pan in which you fry or broil it.

SAUSAGES—they're plentiful and yield lots of grease in the frying pan. (And if you parboil them first, don't forget to save the water and skim off the grease!)

UTILITY MEATS—are good for stews and soups. Skim the grease as they cook. Chill them afterwards and scoop off the fat that hardens on top. (Gravies too!)

HOT DOGS—you'll get at least a tablespoon, or two of grease from the cooking water. Even a teaspoon helps!

FAT SCRAPS—save them all in a bowl in the icebox. Once a week melt them down and add them to the salvage can.

AND BE SURE to keep the can right out where it's handy! Drop by drop, it will fill up faster than you think. Then rush it to your meat dealer and get those 2 red points and 4 cents for every pound of fat. Start today! This message has been approved by WFA and OPA and paid for by Industry.

In 50 B. C., the firing of damp straw to smoke out enemy positions was common.

Barons Need But One Win To Clinch Cup

Cleveland, April 8.—(P)—One up and one to go, Cleveland's Barons have today for the first time in the Hershey Bears and the sixth—possibly the final—game of the American Hockey League playoffs.

Back on the heels that guided the into scoring heights in the regular season, the Barons thrashed the Bears 5 to 3 last night for their third win against two defeats in the playoffs. Cleveland needs one more victory to cop the Calder Cup and $5,000 first place money.

Nimble Nick Damore, Hershey's all-league goaltender who handcuffed the Barons in previous games, was unable to halt the powerful Cleveland offense. Cleveland's George Agar scored the first goal of the game, in which the Barons trailed only 46 seconds.

The Bears made their bid in the second period going into a 2 to 1 lead on goals by Center Alex Riston and Defenseman Hymie Buller. But two former Hershey players, now Barons, changed the lead to a deficit in a hurry.

Third string wingers Harvey Brazier and Tom Fergie drilled twin bulgers to put the Barons ahead 3 to 2 at the going. Agar parently tired from the grueling series, both teams played a listless period with Cleveland scoring twice to the Bears' once. Baron Centers Les Cunningham and Tommy Burlington stole the puck and each beat Damore unassisted. Hershey's final tally came off Art Stuebel's stick.

Redwings Two Games Down In Toronto Play

By TED APPLEGATE

Detroit, April 8.—(P)—Held without a goal for 120 minutes by Frank McCool, rookie goalie of the Toronto Maple Leafs, the Detroit Red Wings were two games down in the Stanley Cup hockey finals today as the scene shifts to Toronto ice for the third game Thursday.

To regain a favored position in the series the Red Wings must repeat the feat of taking two games on foreign ice, which they accomplished in the semi-final series after dropping the first two games here to Boston.

By winning both games at Toronto the Leafs could end the series there and win the 62-year-old cup for the third time.

The Maple Leafs added a 2 to 0 triumph before 13,938 spectators here last night to the 1-0 victory of the first game of the series, and they did it by erecting their offensive defense and playing for the breaks.

The first one came in the second period when big Babe Pratt skated the length of the ice and apparently blocked against the boards, got a pass out onto the stick of Center Ted Kennedy who drove the puck past Detroit goalie Harry Lumley from eight feet away.

The second goal started almost the same way, with Defenseman Elwyn Morris on a solo breakaway dashing down left wing with Carl Liscombe riding him into the boards behind the Detroit goal.

The stocky Leaf broke away with the puck, skated around the net corner and after Lumley dropped to stop his first shot, poked home the rebound to end Detroit's hopes of overtaking the Leafs.

BASEBALL FILM MAY BE OBTAINED AT E. D. EVERETS

Among the players shown in the picture are Bob Feller, Red Ruffing, Lefty Grove, Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Hank Greenberg, Joe Gordon, Frank Crosetti, Joe Kuhel, Bill Dickey, and George Case. The movie thoroughly covers the important fundamentals of play on both hitting and pitching in low motion, and is ideal for baseball groups and meetings.

Behind the Lines

A general sample of a condition which exists in almost every high school throughout the nation was brought out in Pittsburgh last week when the Smoky City men's met to discuss salary disagreements. These men, representing spring athletic heads, held a confab and the result was that if not paid for after-school duties, they would resign their posts as coaches. Throughout the country, coaches are meeting like conditions, all of which are unfair to the instructors. About six months ago, football and basketball coaches in Pittsburgh took similar action, and if schools refuse to pay coaches for teaching after regular school hours, Pittsburgh will be practically without any scholastic athletic activity this spring. These men receive salaries for their duties during the regular school day, but are paid nothing for extra work. This happening is now new to local sport fans, for even in this section of the state, such occurrences have taken place.

The Navy Department lined up its sights last Saturday and the result was a direct hit—a very direct hit on the sailors' athletic program. Came the announcement that all Navy all-star teams would be disbanded, with ex-Cleveland Bob Feller's Great Lakes baseball nine being the first to disband and the Bainbridge football eleven second. The Army and Navy heads have prepared Mr. John Q. Public for what seemed to be a fine baseball season, but now are stifling these hopes by the above action and the draft. Not that baseball players should be given any priority, but why don't they go ahead as was planned?

Members of the Girls' City Basketball League will hold their banquet Wednesday night at 6:30 in the Y.W. League players and officials should be congratulated on having successfully started and concluded a good season. The Men's League counters line this evening at the YMCA, with Jayson Jewell, Joe Gardner, and Arch Hunter on the list of speakers.

Watch for current legislation concerning use of Negro athletes in the American and National baseball leagues. The use of Negroes in these leagues has never been allowed.

With the passing of the coming seven days, fishing season makes its debut, along with the official opening of baseball. Next Sunday, trout experts make their usual April 15 trip into the woodlands to find their favored hole, and on Monday, 16 major league ball clubs, and a host of minor leaguers, break out with the opening day. It looks like Pittsburgh in the National, and on a long shot, St. Louis in the American.

Nelson Cards 263 Record at Atlanta Meet

By CHICK NELSON

Atlanta, April 9.—(P)—Byron Nelson's record of 263 for 72 holes was cited today as the greatest golf performance of all time but it won't go in the books that way.

The mark made the Toledo, O., president in winning the $10,000 Iron Lung Invitation here, will be listed only as a record for a 72-hole PGA tournament, says tournament manager Fred Corcoran.

Corcoran recalled the 264 Craig Wood, duration open title, shot in the 72-hole Metropolitan Open at Bloomfield, N. J., in 1940 and termed it "a sort of dual record."

He explained:

"Wood's score was the lowest for 72 holes, until yesterday, and also the lowest for an officially registered championship. The 263 of Nelson will be entered as the lowest for a 72-hole tournament played as part of a tour, while Wood's will remain as the best for a definite medal championship—a fixed event."

The Bloomfield course (Forest Hills) is 6410 yards, par, normally 71, was lowered to 70 for the 1940 tourney. The capital city club here is 6155 yards, par, normally 71, was lowered to 69 for the Iron Lung tournament.

Nelson was 13 strokes under par after yesterday's fourth round, also strokes ahead of his nearest rival, Sammy Snyd.

Low scores in the Iron Lung golf tournament included Jos Zarhard, Norristown, Pa., who recorded 211-73—284 to win $275.

Captain Drake, with 606 and two games of 208, was the big gun, but Jack Luce contributed a 211 in the second which spoiled an even break for the losers. Sherry Brown, with 219 and 577, was high for the Pettibones.

British Second Reported To Be Sending Shells Whining Into Naval Base of Bremen

(From Page One)

Essen, largest city in the Ruhr, home of the Krupp works and of Reichsmarshal Herman Goering. They also were in the second largest Ruhr city of Dortmund (537,000) and Gelsenkirchen (313,000). A great proportion of Essen's 610,000 population were skilled steel workers.

Germany's Weser river line was shattered along a 100 mile stretch. Behind the fluid front lines, the Canadian First and Allied First Airborne armies just about completed the sealing of a death trap on the German army Group H in Holland, once estimated at 90,000 men.

At the southern end of the action front, the American Seventh and French First armies were fashioning another trap in and near the Black Forest where the city of Pforzheim (79,000) fell. id Crailsheim, 85 miles from Munich, was captured.

The destruction of the beaten German army continued. In the first week of April, the Nazis lost 250,000 men alone, supreme headquarters estimated. On Saturday and Friday, 82,500 surrendered.

Bremen was in flames. So were the north German cities of Hammover, Brunswick, Hamburg and Lubeck and dozens of lesser towns—apparently put to the torch by the Nazis themselves. All available bombing reports showed no attacks during the last 24 hours on either Brunswick or Lubeck.

Among places captured within 24 hours were the Dutch bastion of Zutphen (22,000), a submarine base at Twisting near Bremen, the Stuttgart radio station 13 miles from that south German city. Werl in the Ruhr, Goettinger (15,000), 25 miles northeast of Kassel, and Muenchen on the upper Weser, a city of 12,000.

The First Army established another bridgehead on the Leine river advancing 13 miles east of Muenchen and capturing Neidengandern, 147 miles southeast of Berlin.

Both the First and Ninth Armies were boring steadily into the Ruhr pocket where up to 150,000 Nazis were trapped originally. The First Army already has captured 12,512 from the pocket. Some 19,056 were captured on all First Army sectors yesterday.

Prussian fortress city would release thousands of additional Soviet troops for the push on the German capital.

Soviet troops west of Vienna struck along the Danube river valley and burst out of the Vienna woods on a 14-mile front. They captured Neulengbach, on the Vienna-Linz railroad 75 miles east of Linz, and only 12 miles east of St. Poelten.

Marshal Feodor I. Tolbuichin's Third Ukraine army troops captured the east, west and south rail terminals in Vienna, and seized the main arsenal.

If the highways in the United States were laid out end to end in a single long line, there would be a filling station for each mile.

Noted Banker Is Found a Suicide

North Granville, N. Y., April 9.—(P)—A suicide verdict was issued last night in the death of Leon Fraser, 56-year-old international banker and lawyer, who was found with a bullet wound in his head at his home, he died on the way to a hospital.

Coroner W. B. Ingles said Fraser had written in a note addressed to neighbors, "I have no troubles or any kind, financial or bad physical health—but for a long, long time I have been depressed mentally and suffered from a melancholia that steadily grows worse."

Fraser, who rose from private to major and judge advocate with the A.E.F. in the first World War, was an important figure in reparations and world monetary negotiations in the 20's and 30's.

Infantrymen Meet Heavy Resistance (From Page One)

The Japanese stand on the Naha-Yonabaru line clearly shows that the bulk of Okinawa's garrison, estimated at more than 60,000 troops, had been withdrawn into the southern section of the island before the 24th Army Corps and Marine Third Amphibious Corps went ashore. There are about 85 square miles of rough terrain south of the Naha-Yonabaru line and the enemy is expected to convert all of this into a battle ground.

To the south, marines moved rapidly ahead 3,000 to 4,000 yards on both coasts of Motobu peninsula. Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz's communique today said opposition there was negligible.

The Marine Second Aircraft wing established bases on captured Katsuna and Yontan airfields and strafed and rocketed Japanese positions in support of ground operations.

Japan's futile attempts to knock out Vice Adm. Richmond Kelly Turner's Okinawa amphibious force or Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's carrier force with warplanes cost the empire 417 planes on Friday and Saturday, B-25s and P-51s which attacked Tokyo and Nagoya Saturday destroyed or damaged 173 others in dogfights over those two cities, raising the two-day total to 590.

Eight torpedo and eight bomb hits sank the Yamato. Also sunk were a light Agano class cruiser, another smaller cruiser and three destroyers. Three other destroyers were left burning; possibly three more escaped as the pilots concentrated on the battleship.

The victory cost the United States three destroyers sunk and damage to one major fleet unit plus several destroyers and smaller craft.

BUSINESS INDEX UP Pittsburgh, April 9.—(P)—Pittsburgh district business moved at its fastest pace in history during March, the bureau of business research of the University of Pittsburgh said today. The bureau's business index stood at 178.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average, with the previous high 178.9 in January, 1944. Gains in coal and steel production and the volume of trade accounted for the increase.

AMERICANISM DAY Harrisburg, April 9.—(P)—Governor Martin today proclaimed Tuesday, May 1 as "Americanism Day" and Sunday, May 20 as "I Am An American Day." The proclamation urged "all patriotic, veteran, fraternal and civic organizations and all other patriotic Pennsylvanians to give recognition to the importance of these two days by suitable ceremonies."

The originally announced four factors for determining priority of discharge—service, overseas, combat and parenthood credit—still stand.

A misunderstanding led recently to belief that age had been included as one of the factors.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(P)—The army is adhering to its policy of waiting until V-E day to determine the value of the point credits upon which soldiers will be discharged.

Inquiries at the War Department, made in light of the approaching victory in Europe, brought the explanation today that until formal German resistance ceases and the size of the occupation army can be determined it will be impossible to announce the point values.

Corry Group Visits Warren Wednesday

A Corry group enjoyed an unusual day's program at Warren recently. The principal objective was the Y. M. C. A. on account of Warren schools being closed and through the courtesy of the Y. M. C. A. staff, the rare privilege of a general period in the swimming pool and gym both morning and afternoon was afforded, with the visitors having it all to themselves.

Dinner at the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria was voted "tops" on the list of things arranged for the day, following which was an inspection of the Y. M. C. A. gym and social rooms.

A wonderful exhibit of enlarged air views and other photos of Warren and vicinity at the New Process Company building was enjoyed.

At the State Department of Forests and Waters offices an official gave a conversational account with maps on fire, fire towers, looking forest fires, fire towers, answered questions and presented booklets.

The Warren Public Library was gone over, a personally conducted trip to the roof of the Savings Bank building for the magnificent view was taken. Stores were visited and officials of the Allegheny National Forest explained with maps of Uncle Sam's projects along that line. And one of the most educationally profitable and enjoyable features was at the Pennsylvania Gas Company building, where the head of the engineering department showed on a huge 15 by 30 foot map the company's gas wells, fields, and also with detail maps explained and answered questions.

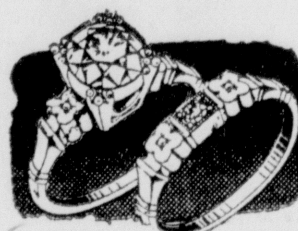

The party sharing in this long to be remembered recreational and educational period was made up of James Klinger, James Bennett, Howard Mowers, Paul Don and Richard Chase, Paul Craker, Charles Berkhouse, and Archie Goldfinch.

WHERE NAZIS PLAN TO 'HOLE UP'

Map above shows Bavarian Alps area of southern Germany where top Nazi leaders expect to hold out, according to their secret "Plan K," uncovered by noted author Curt Riess in a daring trip into unoccupied Germany. He reports that 100,000 picked troops are already in the Reduit. Nazi big shots, according to Riess, have already moved into the hideaways indicated on map. The escape plan is said to be of long standing, but decision to put it in operation, with a zero hour set, was made at a meeting of Hitler, Himmler and Wehrmacht generals at Berchtesgaden on March 29.

Some people like to pre-test a trustee's administrative ability by creating a Living Trust and watching it work.

Many individuals who have followed this procedure with us have eventually named us as Trustee in their wills as well. We shall be glad to talk over the advantages of a similar arrangement for you.
